(a) whether Government have received the reports of Human Rights Commission and CBI on the Midnapur District in West Bengal massacre;

(b) if so, the details thereof; and

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS (SHRI CHENNAMANENI VIDYASAGAR RAO): (a) to (c) National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) has taken cognizance of a complaint dated 26.12.2000, alongwith other complaints alleging violation of human rights of innocent villagers in the Midnapore district of West Bengal. THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS (SHRI I.D. SWAMI): (a) and (b) The National Crime Records Bureau has estimated that the rates of crime, defined as the incidence of crime per lakh of population, in the year 1996, 1997, 1998 & 1999 were 675.6, 671.2, 636.7 & 497.8 respectively which show a declining trend. The incidence of crime cannot be linked only to availability or otherwise of sophisticated devices with the police. It is rather the product of a number of socio-economic factors.

“Public Order” and “Police” are State subjects as per the Seventh Schedule to the Constitution of India and as such registration, investigation, detection and prevention of crime is primarily the responsibility of the State Governments. However, the Central Government has, from time to time, been writing to the State Governments stressing upon them the need to take preventive, punitive and rehabilitative measures in connection with crimes. To supplement the efforts of the State Governments, the Central Government has been implementing since 1969-70 a scheme for modernisation of State Police Forces under which Central assistance is given to the States for procurement of weapons, communication and security equipment on a matching contribution basis. The outlay for the Central assistance under this scheme has been enhanced to
